

Robert Craig Winery 2015 Cabernet
Sauvignon (Howell Mountain)

Howell Mountain, Napa Valley

Red wine from United States

Drinking window: 2020 - 2035

Robert Craig's 2015 Cabernet Sauvignon (Howell Mountain) is surprisingly open and accessible for a young Howell Mountain wine. Medium in body, with lovely underpinnings of minerality, the 2015 has quite a bit of mineral and soil-driven nuances to play off the inky red and purplish-toned fruit. Readers who enjoy Cabernets with a good deal of aromatic nuance will want to cellar the 2015 for at least a few years. Opening a bottle before then is hardly a crime, as the wine is super expressive even in the early going.
